

SUMIX TESTIMONIAL

Owen Joyce from Australian Business Review began working with us at a time when our business was facing a crisis and critical decisions needed to be made. With his extensive knowledge and dedication to results, Owen quickly helped us to turn threats into opportunities and within three months, all crisis issues were resolved.

Owens involvement and contribution have made a remarkable difference to Sumix - he is not only a Business Coach but has become a friend who I trust. He helped to clarify my vision and turn it into a reality. He is professional and results driven and has helped me to focus on the most important areas in business as well as assisting with some of the business basics.

One particular area Owen helped us with was billing. Our commitment to our clients means that we often go beyond the call of duty to complete a job. This sometimes meant that we billed for less time than we worked. Owen worked with us to create a billing policy that allowed us to provide the same great service but increase our billing rates to a level that was profitable for our business.

In less than 6 months our business grew enormously and nine months after our relationship began, our business has doubled in size and still continues to grow. Owen is very hands on and pleasant to work with and I have no hesitation in recommending Australian Business Review to all business owners.
